

Gender pay gap report

2024 snapshot

We are serious about creating the best possible environment for our people to thrive and feel at home doing their best work. To do that, there are some very basic things we need to have in place. Feeling supported and being paid fairly are important parts of getting those basics right.

Our Gender pay gap is one way we measure how well we're doing but there are a range of other measures that we use to look at how far we are on our diversity and inclusion journey.

56%
of our colleagues
are female

44%
of our colleagues
are male

Our average Gender pay gap is

13.86%

Our
hourly rates of pay

mean hourly rate
for female colleagues is

£18.42

median hourly rate for female colleagues is

£15.82

Our
mean
Gender pay gap is 13.86%

15.23% in 2023
15.22% in 2022
11.46% in 2021

mean hourly rate
for male colleagues is £21.39

median hourly rate for male colleagues is £19.66

Our
median Gender pay gap is 19.53%

20.56% in 2023
18.47% in 2022
12.96% in 2021

Pay bands

73.83%
female colleagues

Band A £14.70
per hour or less

26.17%
male colleagues

68.66%
female colleagues

Band B
£14.71 > £17.69
per hour

31.34%
male colleagues

41.07%
female colleagues

Band C £17.70 > £22.30
per hour

58.93%
male colleagues

43.13%
female colleagues

Band D
£167.00
and above per hour

56.87%
male colleagues

Bonus

This year, 184 out of 1,902 colleagues (1,075 female and 827 male):

The proportion of females receiving a bonus was 9.77%

The proportion of males receiving a bonus was 9.55%

Our mean Gender bonus gap is

2.77%

Our median Gender bonus gap is

-130%

More about our data:

- Pay data comes from our April 2024 payroll
- Bonus data is based on bonus payments for the 12 months previous to 5 April 2024
- Full pay equivalent colleagues are colleagues who are not on reduced pay due to sick or maternity leave.

I confirm the data reported is accurate.

Lyndsay Nickerson
People and Culture Director